

Data-Scribe Co-Owner Launches Book on May 20th

Posted May 11th, 2010 by datascribe

Rio Rancho, New Mexico (April 26, 2010) - Leila Johnson, co-owner of Data-Scribe®, has written a book called Driving to Success: Let Your Spirit Take the Wheel. It will be released as an e-book on May 20, 2010 to coincide with Albuquerque's Car Care Month. The book uses a driving theme to explain how entrepreneurs and professionals can be successful by taking different paths in their professional lives.

Driving to Success is a guidebook for those redefining the answer to "What do you want to be when you grow up?". Johnson notes, "After taking many paths in my professional life, I thought it was time to share my journey and provide some practical spiritual advice."

Each person is their own vehicle. Leila discusses how your path can take a different turn whether your Personality or Spirit is driving.

For more details on Driving to Success: Let Your Spirit Take the Wheel, visit <http://www.spiritdriving.com>.

###

ABOUT Leila Johnson: Since 2003, Leila Johnson has co-owned and managed VelaMira, Inc. dba Data-Scribe® (www.datascribe.biz), a full-service, award-winning Web firm. The Spirit Driving Institute (www.spiritdriving.com) was founded by Leila to express her spiritual philosophy. As part of her journey on the road of life, Mrs. Johnson has earned her Bachelor of Science in Biochemistry and in the Metaphysical Sciences. Prior to starting her business, Leila worked as a call center coach and trainer in the financial and insurance industries.